Conduct a physical search of yourself, your belongings, and your vehicle. Remember to look inside pockets or bags, under/between cushions, and behind your license plate.

If you find an AirTag, you can _remove the battery_ to disable its ability to track you. You can also try to _identify the serial number_. The serial number may be used to identify the perpetrator if reported to law enforcment.

Andriod users can download the Tracker Detect app from the Google Play store.
